THE POWER OF THE NEW

Newspaper reports in an airplane at an altitude of 2500 feet, use a seven-point telephone apparatus and talk to their city offices through the New York telephone.

Other reporters, radio men and railroad officials on a speeding train, talk into a telephone transmitter. Their voices are carried by radio, picked up in Toronto, relayed to offices by telephone, retransmitted by a radio station from the telephone receiver, and picked up by radio on the same coach in which they were spoken, and almost at the same second.

That seems marvelous. But it is only the start. What has been done with sound is also done with sight. By television and motion picture, London experts are equipped to that, if necessary, they can actually see hostile aircraft approaching Britain through the thickest fog or the darkest darkness. Infrared rays, radio impulse, devices now being perfected, pick up the invisible object, carry it in the form of rays, transform it so that it can be seen with the naked eye.

More remarkable still, are devices which enable the traveller not only to hear but to see those with whom he talks.

These are new means of communication. They are the allies as well as the competitors of the old, of the signal light, the coming tower, the telegraph and cable. With perfection, they will be put into general commercial use.

Canada, doing business through almost prohibitory cable rates to the Orient, and discriminatory rates to Europe, will be interested in these new developments. Cable companies will reckon with them and, if they are wise, be quick to accommodate them. But as railways and steamers have taken advantage of automobiles and airplanes.

PASSING IT ON TO POSTERITY

At the 22nd annual meeting of the Woman's Freedom League, held in London recently, the president took occasion to remark on the evident obsession of inferiority which still, subconsciously perhaps, dominated the minds of many of the members. This cast of thought is seen in the submission to legislation that does not fully recognize women's newly-proclaimed rights. But, she added, her hope was in the young who are being taught to live up to the motto of the League, "Dare to be free".

If the rising generation can bear the vast load that is being laid up for it, it will need to be a husky and resourceful lot of humanity. Every variety of reformer hopes to see his bright expectations fulfilled by the rising generation.

To prophesy the attainment of a desired object within one's own lifetime is an inheritance to the rising generation.

And the rising generation? Well, it comes as maturity, takes up the torch, carries it for a time, and again the accomplishment is bequeathed to the way, rising generation.

In every stage there are the un-conquered conditions that come through inheritance, into which the living generation weaves its own problems and ideals and thus the chain has grown link by link.

The habit of passing on unfinished business on to posterity emerged, with life itself, from the loins of primitive creation; the more perfect creature has a way of dumping its unfinished business on the distant horizon that needs as we advance, and so it is with the conception and inheritance of freedom, which has changed slightly from age to age and is today as inalienable of a universal definition as it was two thousand years ago.

The Woman's Freedom League has its own ideas of freedom which it fondly hopes will be taken up and brought to fruition by the rising generation, but, if history teaches anything, the rising generation will give as little heed to our ideas as we do to the convention of the Victorian age.

OFFICIAL RELATIONSHIP WITH RUSSIA

The question of an early resumption of diplomatic relations with Russia is being freely discussed in the British press, and many influential persons urge the Government to start negotiations toward this end.

The Soviet system shows no signs of toppling to the ground, as was generally believed it would, and as time goes on it probably will become more firmly established, and a power in world politics that must be reckoned with.

It cannot be denied that the Third International, in its efforts to conceal its sinister designs on the world, has been successful. Its body is bodiless, active, and unscrupulous, it represents but a small fraction of the population, nor are its socialist theories in full accord with the actual conditions of the world, which the administration has been forced to admit. Lenin was forced to compromise, and the last five years have been a radical departure from the economic principles on which it was proposed to build a model state.

State-owned industries have signally failed to provide the machinery, and other equipment necessary for reconstruction and expansion. Russia requires vast quantities of food and materials, and is today the greatest market still undeveloped in the world.

There is, however, something more important than monetary gain to be made by diplomatic recognition of the Soviet. To keep Russia in a state of estrangement is the surest way to confirm her in her Bolshevism and in its vindictive propaganda, and to expect anything different from this course would be contrary to human nature.

The menace of Bolshevism will continue to threaten international harmony until Russian has been brought into friendly co-operation with the nations of the earth, and the initial step in such co-operation with the nations of the earth, and the initial step in such co-operation must be the interference of official representative.

The progress of political and economic evolution is quietly changing Russia's outlook on the world before her leaders, which, her leaders have discovered, will give fair treatment only when it can be assured of fair treatment in return, and this discovery should pave the way for a basis of international understanding that eventually will lead to the inclusion of Russia on terms of confidence and equality in the councils of the nation.

MYSTERY AND NOVELTY ENTERTAINERS OF CHATEAU IN UNCLE KIDDIES' PROGRAMME WED., AFTER-NOON, JUNE 5th

John W. Frye and his assistants will stimulate imagination, create new mental impressions and fill the minds of both young and old with wonder.

Throughout the entire programme John Frye keeps his audience in a continual state of laughter with flows of witty sayings and numerous, comical situations.

One of their most pleasing acts is in reality a fine work of art—that of actually creating pictures from rags. By piecing strips of cloth and rags on a large easel they form pictures unique and beautiful.

Spice forbids mention of the interesting variety of numbers on this last afternoon programme. The boys and girls must see and enjoy one of the biggest afternoons of mirth and magic ever presented.

This programme, equally appealing to kiddies and grownups, will be unique, wonderful and mystifying.

"THE TIMES"

Canada's Market - The Empire

ROLL down the map of the world. Follow the British Empire red through the continents and across the seas. There you see beckoning markets for Canada—where fewer trade restrictions intervene, where British tradition is appreciated, where Canada is known. There we can sell. There we can also buy.

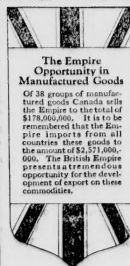

Canada is buying more Empire goods than ever before—things we cannot grow or make—raw materials for our factories. Since 1922 Canada's imports from Empire countries have increased 67 per cent. Last year we bought Empire goods to the value of $250,000,000.

And what is Canada selling the Empire? Last year we shipped $500,000,000 worth of our products to other British lands, an increase of 44.3 per cent, in six years.

The various parts of the Empire want more Canadian goods. A demand exists among them for Canadian manufactures, or for the products of Canadian lands or waters. But we must see that our exports are maintained at a rigid standard, that they are packed as consumers desire, and that our prices are right.

To encourage this growing Empire trade, eleven of Canada's twenty-four Trade Commissioners abroad, are working in Empire centres. They are familiar with the demands of the people among whom they live. Their services and the information they gather are at the command of any Canadian producer or exporter. To get into touch with Trade Commissioners, write the Commercial Intelligence Service, Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

When you buy Empire goods, you do a part in making possible greater Canadian exports to these sister countries. Where we sell, we must also buy.

The Empire Opportunity in Manufactured Goods

Of 38 groups of manufactured goods, the Empire takes the total of $178,500,000. It is to be remembered that the Empire imports from all countries these goods to the amount of $2,371,600,000. The British Empire presents the greatest opportunity for the development of export on these commodities.

The quick work of the Macleod fire brigade Friday forenoon prevented what might have been a serious fire in the centre of the town. 4000 miles for a better crude

In far Peru—more than 4,000 miles from the station where you fill with Marvelube—Imperial Oil secures the rich petroleum from which this better motor oil is fabricated.

To bring this better crude to Canada in Imperial's own ships and transform it by special processes into Marvelube is an undertaking which is possible only because of Imperial Oil's immense resources and facilities.

But Marvelube, a better oil because of the natural lubricating properties of its carbon-free, sulphur-free base, is well worth the huge effort and investment. Marvelube is preferred by aircraft operators because it ensures a greater margin of safety in the air and gives longer periods between engine overhauls. It is the favorite oil of more than a half million motorists in Canada, because it causes smoother, more powerful, more economical operation.

There is a grade of Marvelube refined to meet exactly the specifications of your car, truck or tractor. See the Marvelube dealer at Imperial Oil stations and dealers.

GILBERT REVEALS NEW ACTS IN "TENSE DRAMA" STARS GIVE POWERFUL PERFORMANCE IN "DESERT NIGHTS" GRIPPING TALE OF LOVE AND REVENGE IN "THE AFRICAN DESERT"

A realistically sustained trend and a grim suspense make "Desert Nights," John Gilbert's new Metro-Goldwyn film which opens at the Empire Theatre Monday, a thing apart. It tells a vivid and gripping story of three individuals at the mercy of the primitive wastes of an African desert. Writing in anguish, for the want of a little water, and suffering untold agonies of fear, these three are gripped in a veritable orgy of terror. The film depicts their suffering and their fight with a startlingly dramatic realism and it also carries a most unusual love theme. Each of the three characters stands out in bold clear lines.

"Show Girl," comes to the Empire theatre here starting Friday with Alice White in the title role. J. P. McEvoy has a fund of breezy humor and a sense of satire which always remains good-natured. His characters smack of Broadway as a rule and the actors do it well. They live and breathe and have their being along brilliant pathway of incident. They thrive in the heady atmosphere of night clubs and begin to live when the other half sleep.
